

Me and Malte overtook the responsibility to make the numbers get a different color when the value exceeded a certain number. I also did some “touching up” and fixed a few small bugs. This was a result of another coding team asking for help.